Academic Expectations

- Language of instruction: All courses are taught in English.
- Class format: Lecture, discussion, and seminars based on case preparation, team projects, and required readings.
- Attendance: Required for all courses.
- Participation: Mandatory and factors heavily into the grading scheme.
- Grading: Based on class participation, team projects, case analyses, oral reports, business plans, papers, and exams.
- Class sizes: Core courses are capped at 50; electives range from 15 to 50 students.
- Course load: 12-15 credit hours per semester, usually 4 or 5 courses
- Examinations: Class projects, case analyses, written exams, term papers, and presentations.

Course Selection

Website here through registrar.unc.edu. Fall course offerings available starting in February. Spring courses available in September.

Course syllabi with detailed information on textbooks, assessments, and topics covered are not provided until the first day of class. Brief descriptions are found on the Kenan-Flagler website: <http://www.kenan-flagler.unc.edu/programs/undergraduate-business/curriculum>.

Exchange students receive registration priority if the Course Selection Sheet is submitted by the application deadline. Students are pre-registered for courses based on availability and prerequisite requirements being met. Students can adjust their schedule online before coming to UNC. There is also a drop/add period in the first week of the semester.

Accommodation

On campus housing is limited and not guaranteed for visiting exchange students. Students may choose from three housing options at the time of application and more information will be provided on the next steps:

- On campus- residence halls located near the Business School with convenient access to the dining halls, gym, library and other facilities
- Granville Towers- a private residence hall located close to campus
- Off campus- suggestions will be provided on where to look for off campus accommodation
